

DDD Website

Did you know Divine Design Discipleship has a website full of resources and lessons?! Each lesson is recorded and we post the teaching for you to listen to if you miss, want to share or go back and review. All the handouts are also available in a printable version for your use.

To access our website; go to:

There are tabs at the top of the homepage for you to read about the ministry, leaders, resources, tools & techniques, prayer requests and contact info. You can also access previous lessons and resources from the topic list on the right side of the page along with many other resource websites for your information.

We hope our website blesses you in your pursuit of following and walking with the Lord!
